

BECOME A SPONSOR

The Association of Community Cancer Centers (ACCC) and Cancer Center Business Summit (CCBS) are once again presenting a national meeting where the intersection of Business, Quality, Technology, and Policy leads to solutions in cancer care delivery.

The ACCC 45th Annual Meeting & Cancer Center Business Summit (AMCCBS) is a 3-day sponsor-supported meeting where leading experts in oncology—including cancer care providers and business leaders—will convene to get the big picture perspective.

With more than 900 Cancer Program Members from private practices to hospital-based cancer programs, large healthcare systems, and major academic centers, AMCCBS provides a unique and valuable opportunity for your organization to network with leading community oncology groups, hospital oncology service line leaders, cancer center executives, physician leaders, practice administrators, and other cancer care stakeholders who are looking for ways to help position their programs for success, while addressing the most critical issues affecting their businesses today.

When you join as a sponsor, you have the ability to present your sales and marketing messages directly to hundreds of oncology healthcare professionals who make purchasing decisions at their hospitals and cancer practices, initiate product evaluations, and demonstrate how your products and technologies can support their work in patient care.

The ACCC 45th Annual Meeting and Cancer Center Business Summit will build visibility for your company among its robust roster of attendees and expand your prospect base in a competitive marketplace.
