MEETING SESSIONS

GENERAL SESSIONS will provide top-level approaches to navigating the latest business and policy-related shifts in oncology. New in 2018, the meeting agenda will break out into four tracks—BUSINESS, QUALITY, TECHNOLOGY, and POLICY—each providing strategic insights and forward-thinking solutions within specialized learning environments. These BREAKOUT SESSIONS are outstanding opportunities for personalized education and networking. No need to stay with one track—mix and match sessions to maximize your meeting experience.

Thursday, March 15

8:05 – 9:05 AM GENERAL SESSION

Innovation in Cancer Care Delivery

Harlan Levine, MD, Chief Strategy Officer, City of Hope (MODERATOR)

Roy A. Beveridge, MD, Chief Medical Officer, Humana

Barbara McAneny, MD, FASCO, MACP, President, American Medical Association (Invited)

Anand Shah, MD, MPH, Chief Medical Officer, Center for Medicare and Medicaid Innovation, CMS (Invited)

Greg Simon, President, Biden Cancer Initiative (Invited)

The federal government, provider organizations, payers, and private sector are applying forward-thinking approaches to transform the status quo in cancer. Hear about ongoing efforts to create a health system that is more patient-centered, cost-efficient, and outcome-focused.

9:05 – 9:50 AM GENERAL SESSION

Trends That Will Change the Practice of Oncology

SPECIAL EVENTS

Congressman Brian Higgins (D-NY) addressed ACCC members during the 2017 Capitol Hill Day luncheon.

ACCC CAPITOL HILL DAY—ACCC PROVIDER MEMBERS ONLY WEDNESDAY, MARCH 14, 7:00 AM – 4:00 PM

As Congress continues to deliberate reforms to our healthcare system, now is the time to come to Capitol Hill to share the real-world impact that federal health policy has on cancer patients and care delivery in your community.

You'll partner with colleagues from across your state to meet with legislators, where you'll speak to the importance of improved funding for research, greater access to quality healthcare, and payment reform.

Luncheon Guest Speaker: Douglas R. Lowy, MD, Deputy Director, National Cancer Institute (NCI), the federal government's principal agency for cancer research and training, will share how our nation's investment in cancer research has led to new ways to prevent, detect, and treat cancer, and the importance of protecting federal funding for medical research.

Who Should Attend? Cancer center executives, physicians, nurses, administrators, pharmacists, social workers, financial advocates, and other members of the cancer care team. You must be an ACCC provider member to participate.

ACCC Capitol Hill Day is included with your Annual Meeting registration.

Visit ACCC-CANCER.ORG/CapitolHillDay for more details.

ACCC ONCOLOGY CARE MODEL COLLABORATIVE WORKSHOP

FRIDAY, MARCH 16, 9:00 AM – 4:00 PM

Join your fellow OCM practices to discuss key successes; share solutions to meeting requirements; and learn effective practices to continue transformational changes to achieve the goals of the OCM. Network with thought leaders with technical expertise on achieving OCM data requirements and quality measures reporting; claims analytics and expenditures tracking, financial advocacy, and more.

Who Should Attend? This workshop is exclusive to those who are participating in the Oncology Care Model, including physicians, administrators, social workers, pharmacists, nurses, OCM project managers, and others, as well as funders who specifically sponsor the ACCC OCM Collaborative.

Separate registration is required for the ACCC Oncology Care Model Collaborative Workshop.

 Access the agenda and speaker information at ACCC-CANCER.ORG/OCMCWorkshop

“The ACCC OCM Collaborative Workshop provides tremendous networking and valuable new ideas, leading to a more successful program at our institution.”
