The delivery of cancer care is evolving at such a rapid pace that it is nearly impossible to keep up. There are treatment advances, reimbursement changes, and a pandemic that requires rethinking and adapting processes. There is no single best solution for ramping up oncology services and no one-size-fits-all planning strategy to address the ramifications of COVID-19, which now must be incorporated into your work.

Whether you work in a hospital or practice, are a consultant, or employed by a company providing products or services, it's imperative that you understand and respond to challenges the oncology community faces.

The Association of Community Cancer Centers (ACCC) is a powerful network of more than 30,000 cancer care professionals from 1,700 oncology programs, practices, and organizations nationwide. As the leading education and advocacy organization for the cancer care community, ACCC offers the insights, connections, and resources you need to make a difference to your work in oncology.

ACCC provides practical, replicable solutions for operational and management challenges, reimbursement issues, policy and regulatory changes at the state and national levels, integrating innovative technologies and therapies, and resources for keeping up with trends in cancer care.

Our membership brings together:

- Academics and researchers
 - Allied health professionals
 - Billers and coders
 - Cancer program and practice administrators and managers
 - Consultants
 - Company executives serving the cancer care profession
 - Data managers and tumor registrars
 - Financial advocates

EXPERIENCE a Multidisciplinary Network

The insights and knowledge exchanged among ACCC members provide the ideas and inspiration you won't find anywhere else.

Our multidisciplinary approach is reflected in content shared in virtual meetings, print publications, e-newsletters, audio and video podcasts, eLearning programs, and webinars.

- ACCCeXchange is a dynamic members-only online community where you can tap into the shared knowledge of your peers. Ask questions and gain insight from members in every discipline of oncology.
- Virtual meetings offered in real-time and on-demand provide “how-to” strategies to help address the economic burden of cancer, strengthen internal processes, and improve the patient experience.
- The bi-monthly, peer-reviewed Oncology Issues journal features articles on topics such as innovative models of care delivery, new treatment modalities, clinical research in the community, and hospital and physician alignment strategies.
- The ACCC Financial Advocacy Network, online Boot Camp, and Financial Advocacy Services Guidelines are robust resources to support financial navigation services and enhance professional development.

ACCC offers timely content on cancer types, research and clinical trials, biomarker and molecular testing screening, multi-cancer early detection, combination regimens, and more. Our “how-to” programs delve into care coordination, quality improvement, health equity, telehealth, strategic planning, caring for older adults with cancer, comprehensive cancer care services, and billing and coding.

EXPAND Your Business Knowledge

ACCC offers top-level approaches and practical guidance on the business side of cancer care delivery, which has never been a more critical area of focus. You'll find innovative approaches to economic and programmatic challenges with practical insights to help your organization maximize opportunities and improve its bottom line.

- ACCC worked with subject matter experts to develop a series of seven discipline-specific business briefs to justify hiring the staff necessary to provide comprehensive cancer care services. These business case briefs aim to show how critical these care team members are to improving the quality of care, enhancing the patient experience, supporting their colleagues, and reducing costs.
- The ACCC Annual Meeting & Cancer Center Business Summit held each spring, brings together healthcare executives, business leaders, and multidisciplinary professionals to focus on care delivery models, federal healthcare policy, payment reform, strategic planning, budgeting and contracting, and data collection. Discounts for members
- ACCC Oncology Reimbursement Meetings now offered virtually— help members navigate changes in oncology reimbursement and regulations, gain tools to strengthen program operations, and accelerate knowledge to help weather marketplace changes. Complimentary registration for members
- The ACCC Patient Assistance & Reimbursement Guide is a digital, searchable database with up-to-date information on cancer drug assistance and reimbursement programs to help patients alleviate the financial burden of treatment.

NAVIGATE the Future of Oncology

ACCC provides forward-thinking approaches, access to expert analysis, and the dedicated support you need to thrive in a complex and ever-changing healthcare delivery system.

- As the precision medicine landscape evolves, ACCC is at the forefront of providing essential knowledge on clinically impactful biomarker testing, new cancer diagnostic assay development, and fundamental education for all care team members.
- ACCC was recognized by the Cancer Moonshot for efforts to develop and implement person-centered and sustainable approaches to increase lung cancer screening in underserved communities as part of its Rural Appalachian Lung Cancer Screening Initiative.
- ACCC's practical advocacy and policy approach focuses on three key areas: Oncology Workforce, Cancer Care Delivery, and Reimbursement. From the state to national level, ACCC listens to member concerns on issues impacting oncology and represents members to federal agencies and the White House. Members receive health policy and advocacy updates through emails and webinars.
- Through its Digital Tools education initiative, ACCC will equip cancer care teams with practical strategies for the successful adoption of digital technologies to help mitigate or prevent adverse events, improve clinical outcomes, and elevate the patient experience.
