From the Editor:

Welcome to ACCC's 2nd Annual Oncology Buyers & Resource Guide 2004. Based upon reader feedback, we have redesigned the look and flow of this vital resource. For example, the guide is now color-coded to help readers differentiate between sections. We were also able to increase the number of pages to include additional companies and graphics.

Today more than ever, community cancer programs at the hospital and in the physician practice setting must use all available tools and resources to survive and be able to continue to offer quality cancer care. So if your oncology practice is looking for help understanding ASP, turn to the Management Services on page 4. And if your hospital is looking for a GPO or wholesale pharmaceutical distributor, turn to page 14.

As always, we'd like to thank the company representatives who responded with their organization's information and ask any new companies that we missed to contact Mal Milburn at 301.984.9496, ext. 252 to join the online version and to be added to the vendor list for next year.
