Feeling Negative Revenue Cycle Effects of High-Deductible Health Plans?

Try These 5 Tips.

- 1. Communicate with your patients early about costs and options.
- 2. Conduct eligibility screening early.
- 3. Collect from patients at the point-of-care.
- 4. Offer patients options.

2016 Employer Health Benefits Survey

- Annual family premiums for employer-sponsored health insurance rose an average of 3% to $18,142 in 2016.
- The recent trend in part reflects covered workers moving into high-deductible plans, which offer lower average premiums.
- 29% of all workers were in high-deductible plans—up from 20% in 2014.
- 83% of covered workers face a deductible for single coverage that averages $1,478. That's up $159 or 12% from 2015, and $486 or 49% since 2011.
- 51% of all covered workers face deductibles of at least $1,000 annually for single coverage.

Survey on Drug Costs: Employers Prefer Private Sector Solutions

- When it comes to pharmacy benefits, employers' top concern is reducing costs; the two most important objectives: reducing overall costs (54%) and reducing patient premiums and other out-of-pocket costs (45%).
- 70% think the private sector is better equipped than the government to manage pharmacy benefits.
- 60% of employers say new government interventions would lead to higher prices—only 18% say they would lower prices.
- More than half (54%) of employers think drug companies are primarily to blame for higher costs.

CMS Reports Hospital Rates Down Nationally

- Rates of potentially avoidable hospital readmissions fell in 49 states and the District of Columbia from 2010 through 2015; Vermont is the lone state without a decline.
- Readmission rates fell 8% nationally over the five-year period.
- These data confirm the hard work of hospitals to reduce readmissions by improving patient safety and increasing care coordination.
- Potentially avoidable hospital readmissions that occur within 30 days of a patient's initial discharge are estimated to account for more than $17 billion in Medicare expenditures annually.
