

Educational Award for Allied Health Professionals

Submission Deadline:
Friday, September 29, 2023

OVERVIEW

The Rocky Mountain Oncology Society (RMOS) is committed to focusing on the future of cancer care in Colorado by supporting the professional development by supporting the professional development of Advanced Practice Providers, Pharmacists and Registered Nurses in the state. The leadership of RMOS believes that supporting the educational goals of allied healthcare professionals is vital to the future of cancer care delivery in Colorado and to the mission of the Society.

As such, a subcommittee of members on the RMOS Board of Directors will review the applications and select up to ten (10) participants to receive a $2,000 stipend to attend Best of ASCO conference or other applicable live or virtual meeting—including but not limited to—the American Society of Hematology (ASH), Oncology Nursing Society (ONS), or the Association of Community Cancer Centers (ACCC). Participants may also use the award to enrich their professional development and apply it to coursework that is not reimbursable.

RMOS reserves the right to accept and review applications. This competition limits winners to apply once every two years.
